DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 20-24 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim Objections

Claim 29 is objected to because of the following informalities: in line 1, --to—should be inserted before 'claim'. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 18,19,25-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the German '207 patent in view of Wiley. The German patent discloses the basic apparatus except for the use of a movable wall to gain access into the mill interior. Lack of this type of access increases maintenance costs. Wiley solves this problem by disclosing a similar apparatus including the use of pivotable end wall 20. In order to easily gain access into the mill interior, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to modify German by providing a pivotable end wall, taught to be desirable by Wiley. The remaining limitations would then have been obvious design choices only.

Art Unit: 3725

For example, clearly it would not be desirable to extend the shaft into the end wall since such an arrangement would prevent the wall from pivoting.

Claims 33,34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over German '207 in view of Wiley as applied to claim 18 above, and further in view of Fey et al. The basic combination is of circular or annular configuration. This may not produce the desired comminution for certain materials. Fey et al solves this problem by disclosing similar apparatus including the use of conical comminuting members. In order to produce the desired comminution effect, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to modify German by providing conical surfaces, taught to be desirable by Fey et al.
